DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 43 and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bowers (6,24,400) in view of Chu (Des. 410,672). Bowers '400 discloses a container (carrying case 1) for storing an item, comprising: a body defining an interior space for storing the item; an opening through which the item can be stored in the body and removed therefrom; a closure element having an open position permitting access to the interior space and a closed position closing the interior space; and a calculator with a plurality of buttons and display located in the container; wherein the opening is closed with the closure element; and wherein the stored item is a pair of eyeglasses. (See Figure 3 and column 4, lines 31-32). Bowers '400 does not disclose the calculator being permanently affixed to and integrated on the container. Chu '672 discloses a container for storing an item, with a calculator located on the container, which is permanently affixed to and integrated with the container and which the calculator has a plurality of buttons and display which are exposed on the exterior surface of the container for easier accessibility and use. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to permanently affix and integrate the calculator of Bowers '400 on its container as taught by Chu '672 for easier accessibility and use.

Conclusion

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
